

Chad Shealy
Superintendent
Vicksburg Warren School District

Superintendent Chad Shealy signed on to lead the Vicksburg Warren School District (VWSD) in October of 2013. Under Mr. Shealy's leadership, the Vicksburg Warren School District has made great strides toward their goal of graduating all students ready for college or career and prepared for a productive life.

Under his direction, VWSD was named one of the state's first Districts of Innovation. In his three years at VWSD, Mr. Shealy has implemented initiatives focused on improving student outcomes including adding fourteen pre-kindergarten classes, increasing enrollment at the Academy of Innovation STEM Middle School by over 300 students and creating an early college high school. Other district high schools are being transformed to the academy model and wall-to-wall implementation will be complete in the 2018-19 school year.

Mr. Shealy began his career in education as a teacher at Rosa Scott Middle School in Madison Mississippi, but gained most of his 18 years of experience in the Hinds County School District where he served as a teacher, assistant principal, and principal. His work at Hinds County was recognized when he was chosen as the School District's 2012-13 Administrator of the Year and went on to be named Mississippi's Administrator of the Year by the Mississippi Department of Education.

He is an active member of the Mississippi Association of Middle Level Educators (MAMLE) and served as the organization's president in 2009. He also sits on the state's Superintendents Advisory Committee and is a current board member of the Program of Research and Evaluation of Public Schools (PREPS).

A native of Byram, Mississippi, Mr. Shealy and his lovely wife, Shanon, reside in Vicksburg with their three sons. When he is not in his office, he can usually be found cheering on his sons' baseball teams or spending time outdoors hunting or fishing.
